Editor's View

Criticising 'Peace Prize' for Gita Press is like digging its own grave for Cong.

Will Criticising Gita Press – that can well be called one of the conscience-keepers of Hindus - for getting a peace prize, augur well for Congress in the Lok Sabha elections of 2024.

Gita Press, started in 1923 to promote spirituality among Indians by way of Hindu religious scriptures and literature including Bhagwat Gita, played a decisive role in India's freedom struggle, thus, propagating the concept of the karmayogi (selfless action performed for the benefit of others) for our freedom fighters who were devouring Bhagwat Gita even in jails.

Those who were greatly inspired by it included Bhagat Singh, Bankim Chandra Chattopadhyay, Sri Aurobindo Ghosh, Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, Annie Besant, C Rajagopalachari, KM Munshi, Acharya Vinobha Bhave and Mahatma Gandhi to name a few.

Gandhi Peace Prize is an annual award instituted by the Government of India in 1995, on the occasion of the 125th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, as a tribute to the ideals espoused by him. Gita Press is celebrating its centenary this year.

Gandhi Peace Prize recognizes the important and unparalleled contribution of Gita Press in contributing to collective upliftment of humanity, which personifies Gandhian living in true sense.

The award carries an amount of ₹ 1 crore, a citation, a plaque and an exquisite traditional handicraft/handloom item. However, Gita Press said it was a matter of great honour to be conferred the Gandhi Peace Prize, but the publisher would not accept the cash component of the award keeping with its tradition of not receiving any kind of donations.

"Established in 1923, Gita Press is one of the world's largest publishers, having published 41.7 crore books in 14 languages, including 16.21 crore Bhagvad Gita. The institution has never relied on advertisement in its publications, for revenue generation. Gita Press along with its affiliated organizations, strives for the betterment of life and the well being of all," the citation read.

Now, if a publisher that publishes not for money, but for the propagation of the most peaceful and most inclusive religion and philosophy in the world, does not deserve the Gandhi Peace Prize, who else does.

Thus Gita Press being criticized for getting a 'peace prize' may not go well for Congress in the Lok Sabha elections of 2024 and it can well be likened to digging its own grave for the grand old party.

Promoting ecological security is our prime responsibility, says IFS association

Climate change is a global threat and solutions involve a superhuman level of sacrifice and awareness. Most of the world agrees that deforestation is a serious danger and we need to conquer it immediately. It not only harms the environment but also impacts adversely human lives and kills millions of animals every year. What is holding us back? The officers of Indian Forest Service (IFS) are among the most important links for environmental and ecological conservation. Of course, IFS officers have their own set of administrative problems such as disparity in promotions. Yogesh Joshi interviewed the patron of Indian Forest Service (IFS) Association, Central Unit, Prasant Kumar (1985 batch).

Here are the excerpts of the interview.

Q. Being the newly elected patron of the Indian Forest Service (IFS) association, Central Unit, what is your future action plan?

A. In the election held on 14th May, 2023, I have been elected as Patron of the Indian Forest Service (IFS) Association, Central Unit. The Central Unit represents IFS Associations of all States and UTs in Delhi. Elections to all State and UT IFS Associations are held as per schedule. All State / UT IFS Associations are functional and are actively representing the interests of the Service in their respective States / UTs. The action plan involves realizing our goals and highlighting our concerns and challenges.

Q. What is the prime motive of the IFS associations?

A. Contributing towards and ensuring ecological security of the country is one of the prime responsibilities of the Indian Forest Service.

Q. Can you please describe the general concerns related to the forests in the country?

A. Following are areas of concern for the Environment and Forest Sector in general and the Indian Forest Service in particular. The IFS Association is contributing meaningfully towards meeting these burning issues;

Conservation of forests and wildlife with an aim to increase the forest and tree cover to one-third of country's land area,

Effectively tackle the increasing incidences of man-wild animal conflicts, and Attaining ecologically balanced sustainable development.

Q. What are the prevailing challenges?

A. The challenges include contributing adequately towards;

- Containing the impacts of climate change,
- Meeting net zero emission targets by 2070,
- Meeting Nationality Determined Contribution targets by creating carbon sink of additional 2.5 to 3.0 billion tons of CO2 equivalent by 2030, and

o Enhancing forest based economic benefits, including improvement of livelihoods for forest dependent communities.

Q. Is there any disparity in promotions to IFS cadre?

A. Yes and we are bringing forth this issue of inter-state / UT disparity in promotions in IFS. We are also taking up the issues of ;

- Full utilization of state and central deputation reserve and
- More empanelment at the level of Additional Secretary / Secretary in Government of India.

Q. You had held high positions in the Rural Development Ministry of Government of India (GoI). Please share some initiatives?

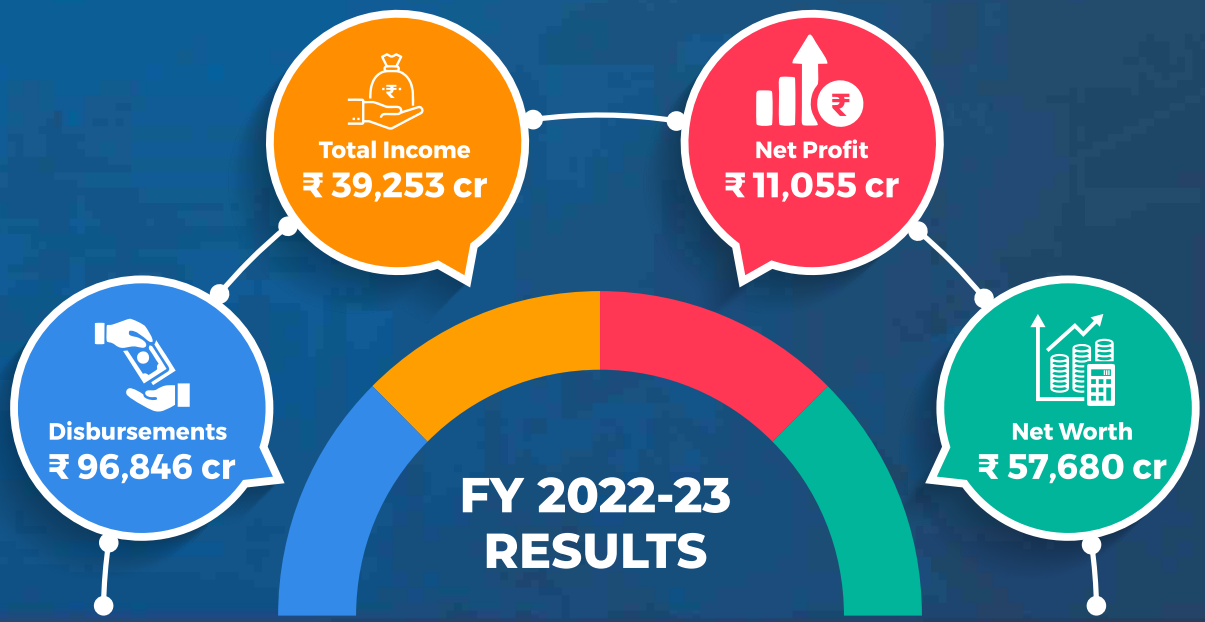

A. I worked as Joint Secretary, Additional Secretary and Special Secretary in the Ministry of Rural Development from September, 2015 to August, 2020 till I superannuated from the Ministry. New initiatives are always encouraged by the Ministry of Rural Development during implementation of various programmesand States / UTs do not hesitate in adopting the new meaningful initiatives.

JNPA celebrates 34 years of excellence and achievement

By Abul Hasan

Jawaharlal Nehru Port Authority (JNPA), India's biggest state-run container port by volumes handled, completed 34 years of operations on May 26 amidst the euphoria created by a recent World Bank report that put it amongst a galaxy of global ports turning around box ships quickly. JNPort has emerged as an epitome of excellence, revolutionizing the maritime landscape with its state-of-the-art infrastructure, cutting-edge technology, and unwavering commitment to efficiency and customer satisfaction over 34 years. It has risen to become one of the most advanced and sought-after ports in the region, handling significant volumes of cargo and serving as a crucial gateway for international trade. The rise of Jawaharlal Nehru Port, one of the two youngest major ports, has been nothing but spectacular. It handles more than half of India's container volumes shipped by sea. The world's top three container terminal operators – PSA International, D P World and A P M Terminals - runs facilities at the port, a feature that none of the other Indian ports can boast of. "J N Port's journey into a world class port has run parallel to India's rise as an economic power. The port has played a very major role in moving goods in steel containers as containerisation became entrenched in global supply chain," said Sarbananda Sonowal, Union Minister of Ports, Shipping and Waterways & AYUSH. "The efficiency and productivity parameters displayed by J N Port compares well with the best in the world. Anguished by how his brother Lord Ganesha tricked him to be declared superior by their parents, Lord Kartikeya Swami decided to leave Kailasa. But, such was his love and devotion for his parents that he wanted to be close to them. So, he took refuge at this place from where he could always watch his parents. It is also believed that he also meditated at Srisailam where Lord Shiva appeared to bless him, what is now the Mallikarjuna Jyotirlinga.

Considered to be a fierce warrior, he was the Supreme Commander of the Devas' forces. The Legend of Lord Kartikeya Swami shall live on inspire future generations !!!!

Get blessed by the Lord enroute to Kedarnath
